(TMI Focus, Vol. XIX, No. 4, Fall 1997)

HEMI-LYNC
Making Global Connections

Hemi-Lync is a print media network bulletin board—a communication device—for connecting you with people, events, and publications around the world that have something to share about Hemi-Sync It's your forum and we encourage you to use it. The items posted in this issue represent only a few of the Hemi-Lync possibilities.

Appearances

James B. Beal, ME, member of The Monroe Institute Board of Advisors and Professional Division, was a presenter at the Healing Quest Conference in Sarasota, Florida, on August 24, 1997. Jim is a special consultant on the effects of electromagnetic fields on living systems. He spoke on “Creating Healthy Places for Human Bioenergetic Fields.”

Academia

On February 27, 1997, the “Hemi-Sync Technology” and Stefan Kasian, AB – GATEWAY graduate and former TMI summer intern – returned for an encore as part of the Stress Management and Performance Enhancement course at Duke University in Durham, North Carolina. Larry Burk, MD, associate professor of radiology, originated the course concept. Through the joint efforts of Dr. Burk and Stefan, twenty students each semester have an opportunity to experience HemiSync directly.

Interviews

On July 12, 1997, Institute Director of Programs Darlene Miller, PhD, was the special guest on Sony Radio Network's talk show The Edge of Reality. Dr. Miller reported lively interaction with numerous callers, who seemed primarily interested in OBEs. The program aired in thirty cities around the U.S.

Magazines
The New Yorker, April 18, 1997, ran two pages of journal excerpts by William S. Burroughs, recently deceased Beat generation poet and novelist. In the May 26, 1997, entry he includes a "seminar with Robert Monroe" as one of many paths he'd traveled in his "search for a final answer."

New Books
Voyages into the Unknown by Bruce Moen, volume I in the Exploring the Afterlife Series, was published in August by Hampton Roads. Goaded by his curiosity and guided by techniques learned in TMI residential programs, Bruce has made foray after foray into other dimensions. You won't be able to put this mesmerizing personal account down!

Newsletters
The Health Resource Newsletter, vol. 12, no. 2, 1997, listed Hemi-Sync tapes as a complementary approach in the treatment of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD). The work of Professional Member Peter J. van der Schaar, MD, PhD, who has addressed this disorder with a combination of Hemi-Sync and amino acid therapy, was also cited.

Newspapers
C-VILLE WEEKLY, a Charlottesville, Virginia, "news of the area guide," turned the spotlight on Nelson County in its September 2-8, 1997, issue. "A Nelson County Thumbnail Guide" devoted a paragraph to TMI as one of two "ear-based" New Age institutions in the county. Books by Nelsonians were featured under the heading "Eat your heart out, Charlottesville!" The list included Journeys Out of the Body and Far Journeys, as well as titles by New Land residents Phyllis Whitney, Joseph McMoneagle, Joseph Chilton Pearce, and Phyllis Berman Popkin.